

Ancient Egypt

English

- Studying The Pottergoose by Michael Lawrence.
- Describing settings using adjectives and similes.
- Creating conversations as playscripts.
- Writing a newspaper report.
- Creating an acrostic poem.
- Writing narrative with atmosphere.

Maths

- Consolidating the three, four and eight multiplication tables.
- Formal written methods of multiplication.
- Division with remainders.
- Counting and converting money (pounds and pence).
- Addition and subtraction with money.
- Division using known multiplication tables.
- Length and perimeter.

Science

- Physical forces.
- Properties of materials with regard to magnetism.
- Recording investigations.
- The structure of magnets.
- Magnetic fields and compasses.

History

- Ancient Egypt.
- Artefacts as primary resources.
- The River Nile's importance.
- Monuments and tombs.
- Egyptology and archaeology.

RE

- How Muslims view Allah
- The role of prayer in the Five Pillars of Islam.
- Fasting and the month of Ramadan.
- The celebration of Eid-al-Fitr.

Art and Design

- Georges Seurat's A Sunday Afternoon on the Island of La Grande Jatte.
- Post-impressionist painting and pointillism.
- Light sources and shadow.
- Mixing tints and shades.

Design Technology

- Textiles.
- Designing and cutting to a pattern.
- Sewing, including running stitch and cross-stitch.
- Decoration with appliqué.

PSHE

- Dreams and goals.
- Ambitions and taking steps towards our goals.
- Facing challenges to our goals.
- Overcoming obstacles.

PE

- Gymnastics.
- Commando Joe: Ernest Shackleton.

Music

- Developing our skills in playing the cornet.

Computing

- Online research.
- Text tools.
- Layout and templates.

Spanish

- La historia GB
- The six key periods of ancient Britain.
- The types of people who lived there and their hunting tools.
- The Spanish for 'I am', 'I have' and 'I live'.

Homework

- Reading to an adult for ten minutes three times each week.
- Spelling Shed spellings for a weekly test.
- Times Table Rockstars practice for weekly test.
Weekly piece of written homework.